BALANCE SHEET OF TERRITORY

Apparently the Revenue Will Be Sufficient for All Appropriations.

The last appropriation bill has been reported in the Legislature and a balance between income and expenditure for the next biennial period can now be struck. The result is a satisfactory one, showing that the legislators have kept well within the estimated revenues and will close the period with a probable balance to carry over.

The totals of the fourteen bills passed carrying money items foot up to $3,565,136.03, while the estimated revenues total $3,550,216.94. On the face of this there will be a deficit of $14,919.09, but fortunately there will be enough unexpended in the amount voted from the Territorial funds for legislative expenses to more than cover this deficit, while the unexpended balances of some of the other appropriations will leave a tidy surplus.

The list of appropriation bills is as follows:

House Bill 161, Unpaid Bills.	16,628.62
House Bill 74, Current Expense	1,636,245.00
Senate Bill 30, Salary Bill.	1,725,180.00
Senate Bill 103, Land Claims.	7,263.39
Senate Bill 106, Burial of Chiefs.	20,000.00
Senate Bill 35, Agricultural College.	15,000.00
Senate Bill 70, Deficiency Bill.	5,757.60
House Bill 133, Experiment Station.	2,000.00
House Bill 153, Waimea Embankment repairs.	15,000.00
Act 1, Expenses Congressional visit.	15,000.00
Act 2, Expenses House of Representatives.	30,000.00
Act 3, Expenses of Senate.	20,000.00
Act 9, Additional Appropriation Bill.	56,861.42
Act 26, Hilo High School furniture.	3,000.00

Total appropriations of session . . . . . $3,565,136.03

Of these appropriation bills eight have already become law through the Governor's signature. These are the five acts given, the Agricultural College bill, the Experiment Station bill and the Deficiency bill. Two of them have been vetoed and are back for consideration in the Legislature. The bill carrying $20,000 for the burial of the high chiefs of Hawaii has been passed over the veto in the Senate and is before the House, while the Waimea Embankment bill, carrying $15,000, has been carried over the veto in the House but not yet in the Senate. It seems probable that the Senate will sustain the veto in this case and it is by no means sure that the Burial bill will not be beaten in the House. Of the two measures the one for the repair of the death trap at Waimea seems to be the most necessary, although there is a great deal of sentiment involved in the other vetoed measure, which may carry it through. Should both carry, however, it will still leave the country with a little in the public purse. In the first place the House and Senate have been most economical in the use of the funds voted them from the Territorial treasury. Up to and including Saturday last the House had spent only $15,995.79 out of the $30,000 turned over to it and the only other big item to come out of the balance is that for the House Journal. And, although the Journal this session will be a considerably larger book than that of last session and an edition of twenty times more is to be printed, the cost is to be but $4500, as compared with $6039.67 for the last one.

The House expenses to date have been $28,138.51 out of a total of $50,000. Last session the expenses were: Regular session, $26,123.38; extra session, $8,508.08; House Journal, $6,039.67, giving a total of $41,376.13.

The estimated revenues for the coming biennial period are as follows:

Estimate of the Treasurer.	$3,198,453.00
Amount available from present biennial period, according to Governor's report.	271,783.94
Estimated income from new License bill.	50,000.00

Total revenue . . . . . $3,550,216.94

In estimating as above the financiers have not figured in the loss of revenue to come from the new Income Tax Exemption bill. This bill has had a troubled career, being vetoed by the Governor, sustained and reconsidered in the House, sustained in the Senate, a bill to supply its deficiencies rushed through the House and passed to the Senate, where it lies at present. If the Senate passes this bill, to make the former one effective, the House will override the veto and the loss to the treasury will be $15,000 per annum.

To overcome this drain on their estimated surplus, however, the financiers are figuring that there will be plenty of the amounts voted not altogether expended.

Bowel complaint is always more or less prevalent during the fruit season and as an attack is liable to come on without warning, it is best to keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the home. ## MONEY BILLS ARE SECURE

House Bills 213 and 106 would also go over.

DISCUSSED THE DAM REPORTS.

The consideration of the two dam reports was brought up again, Rice calling upon Rawlins to advise the members. He thought the majority report plain and clear as it stood.

Rawlins did not wish to talk, considering that he had said enough.

"A word to the wise is sufficient," quoted the member, putting extra emphasis on the "wise." Rice said that this was all that was necessary and moved that the report be amended to advise the canceling of the contract "if necessary." This carried.

NEW FURNITURE.

The Speaker announced that there remained on hand $7,857.28 of the Federal appropriation and wanted to know what the results of the special furniture committee's efforts to see that it was all spent had amounted to.

Rawlins explained that the committee had purchased new chairs for the House and had in view a new set of desks. Now that he knew how much he had to swing on the Speaker could leave the rest with a quiet mind to the committee.

Afternoon Session.

A resolution from the Senate regarding the appointment of a Land Commission to deal with the land laws of the Territory and report at the next session of the Legislature was presented and passed through first reading. A number of other routine communications from the Senate were read, after dealing with which the House took a recess to allow the conference committee to get their report ready to present.

ANOTHER REMEDY BILL.

Senate Bill 117, a substitute bill for the ambiguously worded one regarding the counties receiving one-half of all license fees and police court fines, which had been vetoed, was presented for second reading and passed.

STANDARD OIL REPORT.

Senate Bill 61, the Standard Oil bill, was favorably reported on by the Finance committee, and carried through second reading. One amendment by the committee removed the liability of firms or corporations storing kerosene in warehouses from the $200 license, making the owners of such warehouses alone liable.

DEPARTMENT APPROPRIATIONS CUT.

The Current Expense bill was reported on by the conference committee, showing a shrinkage in committee of $84,150. One item of $24,000 for government physicians, which is also in the Salary bill, was cut out, the grant to the Associated Charities was cut in two, to $2400. Two thousand was pared off the expense of the 1907 Liquor law.

A big cut was made in the Landing and Wharves items, these now reading: Oahu, $24,000; Hawaii, $20,000; Maui, $5000, and Kauai, $5000. This is $11,000 less than in the bill.

The items of $1500 to buy heiaus and puhonuas, and $15,000 for the Waimea embankment, were wiped out, and $250 less is to be given for the Hilo pilot boat.

One item alone was raised, that being for the support of the Promotion Committee, from $5000 to $6000.

The $2000 voted to extend the Waimea water works fell by the wayside, as did a $5000 item to fight grass and forest fires. New buildings for the Lepor settlement, to cost $20,000, were cut out and the Malulani hospital, Maui, will have to get along on $6000 instead of $8000.

This report was accepted without protest.

SALARY BILL.

Not so the conference report on the Salary bill, which put back the Territorial bacteriologist on the payroll and knocked out the language qualifications for the keeper of the archives.

When the report was read Rice moved its adoption. He recognized the fact that the figures would not be wholly satisfactory, but a compromise had to be effected with the Senate members somewhere. The bill did not satisfy him, but the time was short and the bill had to go through somehow.

Kanoho expressed his regret that those who had been given and those who had not had been cut down again in the matter of salaries.

"There appears also in the report an item for a bacteriologist," said Kanoho, "and this in face of the fact that the House tried to get rid of this man. We have voted want of confidence in the Board of Health but turn right around and give them a bacteriologist. What good will all our talkings and grumbings at the Board of Health do if we are to give in to them about this bacteriologist. Are we to forever build up one day and tear down the next? I move that the report of the conference committee be recommitted. It may be that this will delay the work of the House, it may cause an extra session, but I would sooner submit to an extra session than have the bill pass carrying this item. We are here to work for the best interest of the people and I will do so even if it does bring about an extra session. I will pay my expenses out of my own pocket to stay here to work against that item. Therefore I move that the report be recommitted to another conference committee."

Maheo promptly seconded the motion. Kanoho said that he was one of the guilty ones of the committee referred to. When the item was considered in committee there were heated discussions and the item was deferred time and time again because the House was opposed to this item. On Saturday the conference committee nearly disbanded because it could not agree.

Pinkham had been summoned and had told the committee that the present bacteriologist was not a specialist, having gained his knowledge as a general practitioner, and the bill had been so amended that the incumbent would have to be replaced by an imported man.

Kaleiopa poured oil on the troubled waters, so that the report was adopted by a vote of eighteen to seven.

AMENDMENTS MADE.

The Commissioner of Immigration, who had been left unpaid, is to receive $25 a month and the needs of all departments were raised from $250 a month to $275. A new item was put in for the Superintendent of Water Works and Sewers at $175 a month, which will keep Howland in the service, and Criminologist Doyle is also provided for.

Some of the janitors and guards were cut down slightly and the pay of the court interpreters was abridged, the total of the bill being raised altogether from $1,712,140 to $1,725,180.

"THE AMERICAN GIRL" PLEASED THE AUDIENCE

The Ellefords were greeted with another packed house last evening when they presented the Anglo-American comedy drama, "The American Girl," which proved a most interesting play. The story deals with the younger son of an English family who marries an American girl, and returns to England with his brother, who is sick, and while away his wife is turned out of her home. She goes to England in search of him, and after going through many trials they are reunited, and "All's well that ends well." Meta Chamberlain had a good part in Jasmine Carew, and proved that she is as good in emotional roles as comedy. True Boardman was a convincing, manly Phillip Devon, afterwards Earl of Durwent. George Hernandez furnished lots of comedy in Sampson Craft, and Mattie Lloyd Luce made a great part of "Twister"—afterwards "Saragata," a star in the music halls. The Osborn children were the favorites of the evening as "Prince Roy" and "The Little Lady," and their specialty was made the usual big hit. The balance of the cast all had congenial parts and were up to their standard of good work. Mr. Lavigne, the clever baritone, sang "Day by Day" with illustrations and made a hit. The bill will be repeated tonight, and the offering for Wednesday and Thursday is the breezy comedy of two continents, "That Girl From Texas." It is a melange of comedy and sensation and will please all classes.
